

To a lot of our competitors,
a house is just bricks and mortar...

At Groupama our home insurance offers a very warm welcome.

Whether it's the breadth of our cover or the caring nature of our claims handling, we're keen to offer a helping hand.

We've recently rebuilt our policy with extended cover and a host of useful extras and completely redesigned the way we manage claims - so it's even simpler to get the help and advice your customers need.

After all, our professionals are on the front-line and not in the back office, so if the worst does occur we can offer a bit more than just tea and sympathy.

So if your home insurer is losing the plot, speak to Groupama.

You'll find us right up your street.

...but at Groupama we believe home is where the heart is.

Insurances

A long term investment